

We've been kicking up dust for over 50 years.

As America's favorite pastime, Major League Baseball has set the stage for events that have shaped our history and none have proven to be more important than the day Jackie Robinson walked onto the field in 1947.

Today, we continue to level the playing field through our Diverse Business Partners Program by providing business opportunities for minority and female-owned businesses. MLB's Diverse Business Partner's Program is the working model for supplier diversity in professional sports.

At Major League Baseball we continue to break down barriers, even if we have to "kick up a little dust".
